The News.

We have some further details of the civil war waging in Mexico, where the leaders of different factions seem mainly occupied in cutting the throats and eating the substance of the People. Evidently Mexico needs a strong Government.

Reinforcements are preparing for Oregon, where a protracted Indian war is anticipated.—Col. STEPTOE, who commanded the U. S. troops which were defeated by the Indians, is to be court-martialed.

Our Minister at Mexico has been instructed to close his office and leave his post there, and return to this country. A storm is brewing in that quarter.

Gen. QUITMAN, a prominent member of the last Congress and a distinguished Officer in the Mexican War, died at Natchez on Saturday last, another victim to the National Hotel disease.

The statistics of the Mechanical Arts in this country, collected under the Census of 1850, are to be compiled and published under the direction of Mr. J. S. KENNEDY.

The fire at Leavenworth, mentioned in a previous number of our paper, consumed property to the amount of $130,000, on which there was but $30,000 of insurance.

The New York Market, yesterday, both for Flour and Wheat, was decidedly better, with an active demand both for the home and export trade. In our own market, with light receipts and a limited demand, transactions were mostly confined to the millers. Prices, however, were very firm.

The weather continues perfect, both for health and harvest. Should it continue as fine for a week or two longer, our crops will be abundant. Harvesting has fairly commenced all over the State.

Douglas in the South.

The South (Richmond, Va.) has been trying to reconcile the feud between Judge Douglas and the Slave Oligarchy, but enters a seasonable protest against the support of Judge D. for the Presidency, saying:

Already some of our friends are pressing the claims of Judge Douglas for the Presidency.—The people are not prepared for this; let his friends wait. This movement will hurt—it cannot aid him. There is a vast difference between a Senator from Illinois and a President of the United States. We may feel pleased that an avowed Free-Soiler cannot fill the place of Douglas in the Senate, but it is very different when we are asked to prefer him to the truest and noblest of our party for the highest office in their gift. On the next Presidential election, we believe, weighty events, probably the future destiny of this Confederacy, will depend. No mistake should be made in selecting our candidate. Not only should a Black Republican be beaten, but the purest and soundest Southern man should be elected. Our party should be in no hurry to name its candidate. There is time enough for all necessary preparation; there is no need to have a candidate put up as a mark to be fired at from now till 1860. Whenever we do select a candidate, we desire that he shall have a clear record, and a position which requires no explanatory defense, but one which shall command admiration and enforce support.

The South will not touch DOUGLAS. In the first place, he is not "a Southern man." Secondly, his record is not "clear," and his position requires an "explanatory defence." The South thinks DOUGLAS good enough as far as he goes, but he does not go far enough to suit them.—Hence he must be ruled out. So, too, BUCHANAN, like PIERCE, after having been "used" by the South, is to be laid aside for some more available candidate. This is just what Mr. BUCHANAN deserves and might have expected, at their hands.

THE SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—The Madison Journal, speaking of the Republican nomination for this District, says:

We have seen and conversed with Mr. Washburn, but have not heard either from him or any one for him, that he proposes being a candidate for renomination. Mr. Washburn has the esteem and confidence of the Republicans of his District. He has been tried and found worthy; and we know of no man whom we could support with greater cordiality, and more perfect reliance on his worth as a man and his usefulness as a representative.

At the same time we are by no means ready to admit that the Republicans of this district have not more than one man worthy and capable of representing them properly in Congress. And, while the Republicans of this county have no candidate to present for the nomination themselves, we know that they would support a Rock county man as readily and heartily as any other. Rock county gives the heaviest Republican majority of any county in the District, and, if it be admitted that one locality has more claims than another in designating a representative, its claims are perhaps paramount to those of any other portion of the District. Under these circumstances, should her delegation unite in presenting a candidate for the nomination, it would go far to insure his success.

SUED FOR LIBEL.—FRANK LESLIE has been sued for libel, by the N. Y. Swill-Milk Investigating Committee. The "libel" consisted of a wood cut representing the three Aldermen who composed the Committee as busily engaged, brush in hand, in whitewashing a Swill-Milk Establishment. It is unfortunate for the Aldermen that the old rule of law, "The greater the truth, the greater the libel," is no longer in force in that State.

THE COURT DE RIVIERE CASE.—This case was brought, in part, to a successful conclusion yesterday. Mrs. BLOUNT, the infatuated mother of the still more fatally infatuated daughter, has become convinced of the perfidy of Riviere, joined her husband, promises to reveal the place where her daughter is concealed, and leave, with her and Col. B. for Mobile to-morrow. There is reason for the opinion that Miss B. will go home with blasted virtue and character—the victim of the folly of her mother and of her own criminal weakness. If this case has no other good, it may warn American women again the folly of reposing too much confidence in the pretensions of foreign impostors.

De Riviere will probably be allowed to escape trial upon the charge of theft; but he can hardly escape the clutches of his creditors.—Albany Evening Journal, July 16.

Superior and Superior City.

ED. SENTINEL:—After so long a time since the settlement of the west end of Lake Superior, it seems strange that there should be such a public misapprehension and confounding of the two towns of Superior and Superior City. Superior is situated directly at the mouth of the Bay of Superior, where it enters the lake. The ground was pre-empted by owners in the present company, and by hall breeds, whose interests were subsequently purchased by the Superior Company. The tract includes some 3,000 acres in a compact form, extending along the bay (west side, fronting the lake,) for the distance of 12 miles. On this whole tract patents have been issued by Government officers. Adjoining, and up the bay lies Superior City, a tract of about 200 acres, (fractions on the Bay,) which has been in litigation since its settlement, and no patents have ever issued. The strife has been between pre-emptors (half-breeds,) and Col. SHAUGHNESS and others, of St. Paul, who claimed under the Town-site law of Congress. The recent decision of the Commissioner of the General Land office affects only their small tract, and by that decision, neither party is entitled to the tract, but it remains in the possession of the government of the United States, because neither party had complied with the pre-emption or town-site laws. The tract owned by citizens of this city, (Milwaukee,) is in Superior, instead of Superior City.—The titles acquired were subsequent to the issuance of the patents, and therefore cannot be affected by the recent decision. This tract embraces 160 acres, and is in the central part of the town of Superior. G.

Crops in Winnebago County.

OSHKOSH, July 16.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We have taken great pains, by conversation with farmers, and from personal examinations, to ascertain the condition of the crops in this section of the State, and are satisfied, from all we hear and see, that they are as good, if not better than an average. There is no complaint of rust, or blight; the weather is quite favorable; corn has come forward finely in the last three weeks and bids fair for a good crop. On the whole, farmers think that with the continuance of favorable weather, they will have a good harvest.

Official Dispatches from the Peace Commissioners to the War Department.—Letter from the Peace Commissioners to the Secretary of War.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, }
Utah Territory, June 12, 1858. }

DEAR SIR—We have the honor to report that we reached this city on the 7th inst. We lost no time in placing ourselves in communication with the chief men of the Mormon people. After the fullest and freest conference with them, we are pleased to state that we have settled the unfortunate difficulties existing between the government of the United States and the people of Utah. We are informed by the people and chief men of the Territory that they will cheerfully yield obedience to the constitution and laws of the United States. They cheerfully consent that the civil officers of the Territory shall enter upon the discharge of their official duties. They will make no resistance to the army of the United States in its march to the valley of Salt Lake or elsewhere. We have their assurance that no resistance will be made to the officers, civil or military, of the United States, in the exercise of their various functions in the Territory of Utah.

The people have abandoned all the settlements north of this, and all the families have left the city, only about fifteen hundred persons remaining here to take charge of the property, and to burn it if the difficulties had not been settled.—The people from this city and north of it have gone south to Provo, fifty miles south of this, and to points beyond. We will visit Provo and the settlements south in a day or two, and see and confer with the people, and inform them that the difficulties have been settled, and thus induce them to return to their homes.

We have written Gen. Johnston by the messenger that will bear this, informing him of what has been done, and that he could march his army to the valley whenever he desired to do so. We intend to remain and visit the people and converse with them until Gen. Johnston's army arrives. We think it important that we remain until the army is located in the valley. We have but a moment to write, as the express will start in a few moments. We will in a few days forward a detailed report.

We have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servants,

L. W. POWELL, }
BEN. MCCULLOCH, } Commissioners to Utah.

Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 16, 1858.

The decision of Commander BOULWELL'S case was according to my recently expressed anticipations. He was cashiered by the vote of one the largest Courts ever assembled, consisting of eleven Captains and two Commanders. The Court was made unusually large because an important principle connected with the discipline of the service was involved, viz: whether an officer may abandon his post on any pretext without the consent of his superior. By some means the decision became known before it was promulgated, and a strong Catholic influence was exerted on Mr. Buchanan, who remitted the sentence to a five years furlough.

Under the old decision and practice of the Department, this remission gives leave of absence pay, and therefore amounts to a five years' frolic. The Navy is thus degraded and outraged by this Executive interference.

Mr. Comstock has submitted a proposition to the Secretary of the Navy for changing the American terminus of the Collins Line to Portland instead of New York, thus saving five hundred miles distance, and agreeing to carry the various mails as heretofore. No decision has yet been made, but doubts are entertained as to the authority of the Government in the premises, especially since Congress refused to make the transfer to Southampton. No information of any kind has been received here regarding the contingent purchase of the steamers proposed by the French Government.

Re-inforcements for the Pacific were expected to be ordered when the first news of the Oregon Indian outbreak reached here. Hence orders re-calling Harney conditionally were then issued. There is every prospect of a protracted and costly war, which is most earnestly desired by the Democratic politicians on the Pacific.

INDIFFERENCE TO ELECTIONS IN FRANCE.—The Paris correspondent of the Philadelphia North American mentions a fact which exhibits the remarkable indifference of the French population to the electoral privileges accorded them in the choice of their municipal officers.

"In most cases the late elections had to be gone through a second time, no candidate having secured the necessary number of votes to render the proceeding valid. But it appears that no official of prefectorial zeal could convince the electors of the value of self-government; for the result of the second election has proved worse than that of the first. For instance, in one of the cantons of Havre, where 6,000 electors are enrolled on the lists, only 432 could be got to vote, and of these 420 voted for the "government candidate." In general, it has been found impossible to induce "one-quarter" of the electors to come forward. I do not allude to this subject again as a proof of ill will on the part of the masses of the population towards the government, but as an additional evidence of the utter impossibility of uniting a central, despotic administration with the realities, or even the mere forms of free institutions throughout the country at large. A nation has but a choice between two courses, either to learn to govern themselves, or to submit themselves to the government of another."

There is often quite as great an indifference manifested at elections in the United States, when some great principle of constitutional law is to be decided, though it is almost always otherwise, when the spoils of office are in view.

LINCOLN'S SPEECH.—The admirable and thoroughly Republican speech of Mr. Lincoln, in reply to Judge Douglas, published in our last, seemed to require no comment; yet a single remark with reference to the origin and attitude of the rival canvassers may not be out of place. Judge Douglas, who regards slavery as an affair of climate and latitude, is a native of free Vermont; Mr. Lincoln, who esteems slavery a national evil, and hopes that our Union may one day be all free, was born and reared a slaveholder in Kentucky. These gentlemen would seem respectively to have "conquered their prejudices" founded in early impressions. We shall watch with interest the progress of the canvass. —New York Tribune, July 16.

From the Alta California.

Rescue of Japanese Sailors — Six Months at the Mercy of the Waves—Highly Interesting Particulars.

The Alta of Tuesday made a brief mention of the rescue of twelve Japanese from a rudderless junk, by Captain Winchester, of the ship Caribbean, on her voyage from China to this port.—Yesterday, accompanied by Thorne, the Japanese porter of Wells, Fargo & Co., Mr. Van Reed and Capt. Silvey, of Sweeny & Baugh's, we paid a visit to Capt. W., who is an old trader between our port and China, his last being his ninth round voyage. The Caribbean laid out at anchorage off Clark's Point, and taking boat at Meigg's wharf, we were soon alongside, and welcomed on deck by Capt. W. himself, who had but just returned from the city with the captain of the Japanese junk—his first visit to an American, and we may say civilized city—which will ever be memorized, from the fact that he had a daguerreotype likeness taken, which he exhibited to me with great pride, although evidently astonished and bewildered as to the means of its accomplishment.

THE APPEARANCE OF THE PARTY.

The Japanese were called upon deck, and received Thorn by bowing, at the same time folding their hands across the abdomen. They are a fine-looking body of men, differing in feature, costume and habit from the Chinese. The majority are possessed of regular features, and several are really fine looking, conspicuous among which class are the captain and second mate.—The first mate partakes of the Chinese type, while but one of the crew has the almond-shaped eye. They were dressed peculiarly, wearing blue cotton trowsers, a la Chimois, white cloth socks, to which sandals of straw are attached by a thong passing between the third and fourth toes and around the ankle; a loose wrapper style of an outer dress, with two or three under garments, seemingly of similar shape, folded across the breast, the whole held together by a girdle, which, at the same time, permits the garments to become the repositories of the various articles and essential portables, answering for pockets.

They wear no cues, but the top of the head is closely shaven, allowing an outer edge of hair to grow long, which is carefully gathered up over the head in a knot, permitting only the centre of the frontal portion, a continuation of the forehead, to be exposed. Their hair is finer in texture than that of the Chinese, and all their visages were innocent of a moustache. Capt. W. informed us that they were of very cleanly habits, bathing every morning, and that during the voyage they refused to associate with the Chinese passengers, and in using the culinary utensils after them, were very particular to scour them thoroughly.

On the ship they endeavored to render themselves useful, and always exhibited great alacrity in aiding the ship's sailing, by pulling the ropes, &c.

Although unable to use any English words, from the intelligent expression of their countenances during the propounding of questions, it was evident to us they at least comprehended the meaning of many.

EXTRACT FROM CAPT. W.'S LOG.

Previous to giving any account of these strangers, as taken from their own lips, the following extract from Capt. W.'s log will best explain their condition:

"May 16, at 4 A. M., fine and clear, saw an object to windward, which looked like a ship dismasted; tacked and stood towards her, and made her out to be a junk, with an old torn sail set, standing towards us. When about half a mile to leeward of the junk, she lowered her sail and put out a canoe, and came alongside with twelve men and their luggage. They all uncovered their heads, and fell on their knees, and by signs asked to take them on board, which we did, although we could not understand their language. One, apparently the captain, wrote on a piece of paper, in similar characters to those of the Chinese, but none of the Chinese passengers could understand it save the word Japan. He then produced a board, with the likeness of what we knew to be his junk, ingeniously built, representing her as she appeared after a heavy typhoon, with her rudder broken, masts carried away, &c., and a little jury mast rigged. Sent the master aboard, and found her as illustrated by her crew: Rudder broke, masts carried away, and everything in a disorderly state; her bottom covered with barnacles said to be two feet long, as she had been tossing about for five or six months.—We saw it was impossible for her crew to take her to land. She was laden with wine, oil and barley. Took seven tubs of the former and ten tubs of the latter, as provisions for crew, as they had doubtlessly lived on the same for months."

Here is material for a romance! How those poor men must have suffered from anxiety, and yet they exerted themselves to the best of their knowledge and ability to reach their haven. In addition to the above particulars, Capt. W. stated that, when they were relieved, the majority were covered with boils, and were nearly half blind from their exposure.

THE JAPANESE CAPTAIN'S STATEMENT.

Aided by Thorn, we were duly presented to the rescued mariners, who, in reply to the request to narrate their adventures, through their Captain furnished us the following, which, although elicited by direct and frequent questionings, we have placed in the shape of a narrative:

Capt. Ichtzabg stated that the junk Asar meer, manned by twelve men, residents of Oail, the province of Handar, Japan, left the port of Isai, bound to Jeddo, on the 13th of August last, laden with rice, barley, wine, hats and lumber.—At two o'clock the ensuing morning, they encountered a heavy typhoon, and so desperate were their prospects of riding it out, as in its fury the rudder had been broken, and the vessel almost unmanageable, they commenced to throw over the cargo, at which they labored for five hours, until all were exhausted. Five hours after they cut away the masts, which cased the junk, and they bore away at the mercy of the storm and flood.

For twenty-four days they were tossed about in a succession of storms, when they hove overboard a portion of their lumber, and endeavored to rig jury masts and a new rudder, but another typhoon swept over them, and as the junk rolled so heavy as to threaten a complete revolution, two anchors, attached to two hundred (the interpreter said two thousand) fathoms of hemp cable, were got out to keep the junk's head to sea.

From that time, for over five months, they tossed about at the mercy of the waves, and having erected jury masts and made sail, attempted to reach land; but they saw nothing but the wide expanse of waters, until the Caribbean hove in sight. Where they were, they have no knowledge. They were kindly rescued by Capt. Winchester; have been kindly and considerately treated, but desire to reach Japan as soon as possible. In reply to a statement that they would have to take a ship for China, or await a Government vessel, the Captain, with considerable emphasis, stated that they did not wish to visit China, but would patiently await direct conveyance home.

Horrible Accident.

DALLAS, July 7, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Mr. J. B. Barr, one of the best farmers of the North Prairie, the garden spot of the State, was thrown from a reaping machine yesterday, falling in front of the fingers and sickle, when the horses ran off and dragged him over a hundred yards, literally cutting him to pieces. Late last evening he was living, but there is no hope of his recovery. When first picked up he spoke to his son, saying, "I am killed"—the only words he had uttered.

OVERFLOW AT NEW ORLEANS.—About six o'clock this morning, the greater portion of the city was two feet under water, and most of the streets were navigable for small steamboats.—Seldom, indeed, has such an overflow fallen on the city in a single shower. Every street running towards the rear of the city, presented the appearance of a river, and did a great work of purification to gutters which had become filled with filth, to the annoyance of the public nostrils.—New Orleans Picayune, 9th.

AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIP.—The preliminaries of a grand prize fight between John Morrissey and John Heenan, alias the "Benecia Boy," for $5,000, have been just arranged. The fight is to take place in Canada, sometime within three months. Morrissey is well known in this city. He has had several fights in and out of the ring, is about 28 years of age, and resides at present in Troy. Heenan is only 23 years of age, and never fought, is lighter than Morrissey, and has recently resigned a place in the Custom House in order to "meet" his man untrammeled. The sporting world is in great commotion about the affair, and bets run high and even.—N. Y. Tribune.

Suicide in Elmira, N. Y.

ELMIRA, July 15.

Dr. O. Wilcox had amputated a leg for a man by the name of Hammond, in the town of Chemung. In consequence he soon after died.—The doctor was charged with mal-practice, and criminal proceedings instituted against him.—The Sheriff served the papers on him this morning, immediately after which the doctor took some kind of deadly poison, and expired in half an hour. The coroner is now holding an inquest on the body.

FOR OGDENSBURGH.—A tri-weekly line of propellers also run to Ogdensburgh.

GRIFFEN & BURKE, at the foot of East Water street, are the Ticket Agents for the above lines.

RIVER STREET.—There are many streets within the limits of our goodly city, scarcely known to persons who have resided here for years, among which we venture to say is River street. This thoroughfare, though it has had a name for some time past, has hardly had a definite location, until within the past year. It was known to be somewhere West of East Water street, between the Oneida and Chestnut street bridges, but being inaccessible by reason of the water and mud, no one took the trouble to find its exact situation. Something less than a year ago, the filling of the old bayou was commenced, and by degrees River street began to make its appearance above the surface of the water. Its proper location, however, was still in doubt, and this was the cause of some dispute amongst the owners of property in the vicinity, which was finally decided by the Common Council and the Board of Survey.

The filling of the Bayou was completed some time since, and in its place now is some of the most valuable property in the city. New buildings are springing up all along the street, and it bids fair ere long to be a stirring business place. On the river side, nearly the whole distance between Oneida and Division streets, is occupied by lumber and coal yards. The location is capital, either for this, or the warehouse business. When this street is paved, which it must needs be, in order to make it passable in wet weather, it will take the place of East Water street, as far as it runs, and leave this latter street, where it has been heretofore,—in the background. Making River street—for if ever a street was "made" this was—proved to be a very difficult task. In some places the water and mud were ten feet deep, and more or less of all the lots on the East side, were from six to eight feet under water. It was a good job, however, not only making a fine street, but abating an almost intolerable nuisance, that horrible stench-pool, the old Bayou. In going up to the La Crosse Depot yesterday, we went this way, and were somewhat surprised at the rapidity with which this street has been improved.

MUSIC IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—In our notice of the Seventh Ward School, yesterday, we omitted to mention one feature which should not be passed by unregarded. It is the successful introduction of Vocal Music. Visitors who have been in either of the Departments of the Seventh Ward School, during the last term, must have been struck with this pleasing feature in the daily exercises, and with the proficiency attained by the scholars, as well in the Intermediate and Grammar, as in the High School Department.

Instruction in Vocal Music, in all the Departments, was given by Mr. H. B. COX, the Principal of the Grammar School, without extra charge and frequently out of school hours. He is a thorough and competent teacher, as the result of his labors for the term sufficiently shows.—Whether as an accomplishment, an aid to discipline, or a healthful and attractive exercise, Vocal Music deserves a place, and should be sedulously cultivated in all our Public Schools.

ANOTHER NEW GRAIN WAREHOUSE.—We notice that Mr. L. J. HIGBY is fitting up the building at the West end of Chesnut street bridge and directly in the rear of the passenger office of the La Crosse road, for a grain warehouse. The rear of the warehouse and that of the Railroad office are both connected, and the track passes underneath, so that the grain can be taken from the cars into the elevators, without bagging, carting or re-handling. This method must save considerable expense in shipping grain, and in time will entirely do away with the use of bags. Mr. HIGBY'S warehouse, is so nearly finished that he expects to be able to commence taking in grain there on Thursday. The grain is to be elevated by steam into the cupola, where it is weighed in large quantities, and thence passes down into the bins, several of which are provided in order to keep different qualities, that it may be necessary to store separated.—The warehouse being as convenient to the river as the railroad, affords excellent facilities both for receiving and shipping grain.

"THE GALATEA."—This is the name of a very handsome four-oared boat, built by BROOKS for Judge CROSS, and one or two friends. She is tastefully painted by W. WAIGEL, of a dark bronze color, relieved with gilt, and has brass mountings. She is a fine boat to look at and, no doubt, "a good 'un to go." We notice by the way, speaking of boats, that the Wisconsin of last evening makes the discovery that "we have two or three half-alive boat clubs, which once in a couple of years or so manage to recover from their despondency sufficiently to start some kind of a race."

The Wisconsin is not posted. We have two large, wide-awake and well-organized Boat Clubs here, and several smaller ones; and there is scarcely a pleasant evening but what one, or more of their boats may be seen skimming over the waters of our beautiful Bay. As for "racing," though by no means essential to the existance, or enjoyment of Boat Clubs, we are personally cognizant of at least a dozen well-contested boat races already this season, and more are on the tapis.

GOOD STARTING.—Some days since we mentioned the fact that Messrs. H. LEDINGTON & Co. Extensive Lumber Dealers in our City, had sold nearly as much Lumber up to the 1st of July, as during the whole of last year. Yesterday we learned from the Messrs. BUSHNAN, who manufacture annually several millions of brick, that they have sold more brick this season than in any previous year. These are gratifying and unmistakeable evidences that in spite of the hard times and the clouds which have lowered over our City and State, during the past year, MILWAUKEE is "going ahead," steadily and rapidly.

The annual examination, conferring of degrees, &c. of the Milwaukee Female College will be commenced to-day, (Tuesday) and continued on Wednesday. The annual address will be by J. B. D. COGSWELL Esq., and the address before the Alumni by Rev. Mr. STAPLES. The public are invited to attend.

POLICE COURT-YESTERDAY.—The crowd of lookers-on who thronged the police court yesterday morning, were considerably amused at the evidence of an old lady (?) named Catharine Warnke, in a case where a lot of rowdies were charged with having broken into, or forced their way into her house on Sunday night, and then cut up disorderly capers too numerous to mention, such as breaking furniture, turning the beds up side down, dancing, shouting, swearing, &c., &c. Mrs. Warnke, was a very matronly looking personage, about fifty five years of age, we should say. She related the annoyance which she suffered at the hands of the unruly fellows who entered her house at the dead of night, with a great deal of plausibility, and indeed the sympathies of the listeners must have been with her until Gen. Payne, the counsel for the defendants, commenced cross-examining her, when the old lady at once lost her temper and discretion, and told altogether too much for her own good.

It appeared from her statements that the old wretch kept a villainous house of prostitution, and the evidence of this was very ingeniously brought out from her own testimony by Gen Payne. At the close of the examination, the defendants were discharged, as the evidence against them was of too doubtful a nature to sustain the charge. MRS. W. appeared very glad to get off, and did not show any desire to push the prosecution farther, but her indignation was again aroused before she had well got out of sight of the police court, by an officer's informing her that she must accompany him back to the court to answer the charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. Those whom she had just complained of very willingly became evidence for the city, and the result was that the matronly looking old lady (?) was convicted, and fined $50 and costs, which she paid out of her ample, but ill-gotten funds.

James Devine, Michael Dunn, John Kerr, John Gord, and Patrick Latherty, charged with disorderly conduct, were discharged upon examination. Julia Peet, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged for want of prosecution. Andrew Sager, was fined $1, for drunkenness. Francis Fuchs, was fined $5 and costs, for being disorderly. John Devine, was fined $2 for being intoxicated.

THE YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION.—We published a few days since a report of the proceedings of the Board of Directors of this Institution, giving a list of the papers and periodicals received at the rooms of the Association. We intended to call attention to it at the time, but omitted to insert our notice.

It appears by the report, that more than sixty papers and magazines are on the table of the Association, and can at all times be found there by persons who desire a quiet reading room.—The list embraces all of the various Reviews of Great Britain and the United States; the popular and, at the same time, substantial magazines of the day, and a collection of regularly received newspapers, obtained from every section of the Union—including Canada.

The number surprised us, and lest there should be any mistake, we visited the rooms of the Association, and there found every paper in its place on file. Every portion of the country is represented, from Minnesota to Massachusetts, and from Toronto to New Orleans. The selection is admirable, and is made with reference solely to the good of the Institution and the readers of all classes.

The Board of Directors, we understand, intend to keep the Reading Room supplied as at present, having made arrangements for the future with publishers and others. They deserve the thanks not only of members but of all who frequent the Rooms.

The Reading Room is constantly open, and is patronized more than we had supposed, not only by our own citizens, but by strangers visiting the city.

It is contemplated to have a course of Lectures during next winter, and we trust the public will encourage the effort.

Persons visiting the Rooms for any purpose, will find the Librarian, Mr. ARNOLD, always in attendance and a model man for the place.

To the Editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

I notice an advertisement in your columns of "WINSHIP'S PATENT Self-Ventilating Refrigerator" and having had one for some time in my own family, and knowing of their use among many of my friends, I would invite the attention of your readers and yourself to the article, as one commending itself to the common sense of our housekeepers, and worthy of being adopted by all.

It is a well authenticated fact, that in the ordinary ice chests there is not only a general commingling of the flavors of the various articles that may chance to occupy them for the night, but that very much of the food thus confined soon becomes contaminated and unhealthy, and disease in a family of children has been traced to this cause. It becomes a matter of philanthropy then, to help introduce an article of Domestic Economy, that, while more artistic in appearance, and convenient in form, at the same time ensures perfect purity of air in the provision chamber, and thus removes one source of disease in our families. SEWING MACHINES THAT ARE RELIABLE.—GROVER & BAKER'S.—The Citizens of Milwaukee are cautioned against being misled by unscrupulous representations in regard to a $25 Machine got up to sell, (until the infringment is declared, by the proper tribunals,) not to wear, as one I have in my possession, used but little, fully testifies. It is represented as "The best," "making as good work," and "guaranteed to be equal to any other." I apprehend this guarantee won't be considered worth much, by any person of skill in such matters. An examination must satisfy any one, that it cannot be relied on to work truly for any length of time.

The GROVER & BAKER machine, which is now on sale at No. 12 Newhall Buildings, I can recommend as adapted to all uses, and perfectly reliable. While other makes are good, I prefer this, for several reasons. The stitch is beautiful, it makes a more elastic seam, ties a knot as the stitch is made, requires no fastening of ends, sews from the ordinary spools without winding, and, with Silk or Crotchet Cotton, the under stitch makes a beautiful embroidery, adapted to children's garments. These are some of the reasons why I prefer it, after a full trial in my family, and I therefore recommend it, as the best and cheapest—being the most reliable.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, July 19.

Baron Gerolt, the Prussian Minister, having received permission of absence from this city, will leave for Providence in the course of a few days, for his family, with whom he will return in the autumn.

Mr. Blonde, the successor, recently appointed by the Belgian Government, to H. de Bloech Spencer, who was appointed minister to Turkey, has since been named to Sardinia, and it is not improbable that this arrangement may retain Mr. Spencer in this country.

The Tribune's correspondence says that Col. Henry took despatches to minister Forsyth, conveying the President's views regarding the forced loan, and informing him that a steamer will be sent to Vera Cruz to convey himself and legation to Mobile.

Col. Forsyth has written to the Department, stating that after protesting against the forced loan, he had thought of demanding his passport, but had finally deemed it best to remain in Mexico, though he had suspended all diplomatic intercourse.

It will be seen by the order to leave that this position is not approved here. Col. Steptoe is severely censured for his conduct in Oregon, and will probably be court-martialed.

Gov. Stevens and Gen. Lane have requested that the command be assigned to Gen. Harney or Col. Mansfield, and urged the calling out of volunteers. No decision has been made on these points, but a portion of the reinforcements for Utah have been ordered to Oregon to unite with the force from the Pacific.

A supply or Sharpe's rifles have been purchased to arm the troops.

It is ascertained from a reliable source, that about two years ago treaties were made with certain Indians of Oregon and Washington Territories, including those who recently fought against Col. Steptoe, which the Senate failed to ratify. This omission has had the effect of producing on the minds of the Indians the impression that there is an absence of good faith on the part of the U. S. Government.

Several weeks ago, when the rumored defeat of Col. Steptoe reached this city, the Indian Bureau promptly sent out directions to the U. S. Indian Agent, to use all available means at his disposal for such an emergency, to check at once the further spread of hostilities, and to prevent the commission of outrages upon our citizens.

John D. G. Kennedy having been appointed by the President to carry out the act of Congress, for the completion of unfinished work of the 7th census, has entered on the performance of his duties, with an able corps of assistants, and is busily engaged in revising and completing the statistics of manufactures, in order that the work may be presented to Congress at the commencement of the next session. The statistics taken under the direction of Mr. Kennedy, were completed when he was displaced from office.

It will, when finished, present the most complete and correct exhibit of the condition of the mechanical art, and has everything prepared for these details, having never been published. The interest occasioned by their appearance will not be confined to our own country.

It was rumored that Morena, commander at Tampico, had been reduced to the necessity of making overtures of peace to Caravajal, who answered that he could come to no terms which did not recognize the existence of authorities.—Vidaurri was in excellent spirits, and sanguine of success.

It was also rumored that propositions of reconciliation had been made to him by the centralists, but that he refused to entertain them, unless they acknowledged the supremacy of the constitutional government

A Discussion on Slavery.

Mr. E. A. HOPKINS gives notice, through our columns, that he proposes to discuss the subject of SLAVERY, in its social, political and religious aspects, and that he invites those, who differ from him in opinion, to hear and answer his arguments. Mr. HOPKINS talks very confidently, and is, we doubt not, a skillful advocate of the side which he has espoused. TRUTH never suffers from FREE DISCUSSION, and therefore the contest, which Mr. HOPKINS invites can do no harm, and may result in much good.

The War of the Factions—The Union on Douglas—Buchanan still Belligerent.

The Washington Union of the 14th affects to be greatly disappointed with the speech of Senator DOUGLAS, on his return to Chicago. It pretends to have expected him to recant his Anti-Lecompton heresies—at least to "acquiesce" in the Green-English bill—but he had the impudence, in spite of this expectation, to defend his course, even in voting against the latter! The Union goes on to say:

We have at length the telegraphic report of his speech at Chicago. It may be imperfect in point of matter—it may not embrace all Mr. Douglas said. We sincerely trust it is, that much has been left out, and much reported which Mr. Douglas did not say. The latter would be a most desirable amendment of the speech; for what is reported to have been said will greatly astonish the country. Mr. Douglas, we fear, has mistaken a demonstration in his behalf in two or three cities for popular support and confidence by the whole country. He arraigns the democratic party of last winter, and declares that he and his friends defeated and prostrated it in the passage of the English bill; which he and his friends opposed and voted against! The English bill was all wrong. Mr. Douglas could not endorse it; he voted against it; it became nevertheless, a law. That law then became a triumph to Mr. Douglas! There are somethings too deep for ordinary minds; and this was never made clearer than in the report of Mr. Douglas' speech. What was the object of the senator?—Did he wish to re-open the old wounds? Did he desire to set up for himself on the smell capital of two or three public receptions? Has his vanity so overcome his judgment that he can for a moment suppose that nineteen twentieths of the democratic party are about to stultify themselves, condemn their conduct last winter, come out now for that most infamous of all abolition measures, the Crittenden amendment, which Mr. Douglas now so warmly approves?

We say in all candor to the Illinois senator, that he never made a greater mistake. It was his place to forge: what passed last winter. He was interested in forgetting it. The country was all ready to recognize and endorse his defective memory in this respect. We believe Douglas himself really desirous to obliterate the infinite blunders of the late session. But he must vindicate his consistency. He must go down to his people and show them that he was quite immaculate—that he never made blunders, and in that act he committed the greatest blunder of his life. We will not indulge in further comment in anticipation of the authoritative publication of his speech."

Of course the Douglas organs do not submit quietly to these "official" rebukes of their chief from the National Democratic organ. They retort sharply upon the Union and its masters.—The Chicago Times of Saturday last leads off in this trenchant style:

THE WASHINGTON UNION—"DOUGLAS MEN."—The Washington Union long since earned the contempt of the country. It has no editor; it is a sheet published by a score of men who are fattening upon public property, and is edited by amateurs—men in office, and men who are out—but seeking to get places under the government. Hence, it is no unusual thing for it to publish editorials during a week from six different persons on the same subject—each editorial differing from and directly opposing the sentiments and opinions expressed in the five others. The Washington Union is got up on the plan of some of the experiments in the search for "perpetual motion"—it runs regularly, but with no method, order, or regularity, and has about once a fortnight to be wound up, shaken, and then set in motion again.

In the issue of July 13th, it makes the discovery, and announces the fact that Mr. Douglas is at Chicago, and that "he is a Douglas man." For once the Washington Union hit the nail on the head. Mr. Douglas has been at Chicago, and we have no doubt that he is a Douglas man. He is unquestionably in favor of the re-election of Douglas to the United States Senate in preference to Lincoln, or any other Black Republican. The Washington Union, however, is not a Douglas man—that paper, and the trifling squad of government office-holders it represents, prefers the election of Lincoln, or any other Republican, to the United States Senate to the re-election of Douglas. To the extent of this difference as to which should be preferred, Douglas or a Republican, the Washington Union may as well put its head under its wing and go to roost, under the certain assurance that the entire Democratic party of Illinois are "Douglas men."

This is the beginning of a fierce war. The Union, so far from agreeing with the News here, that Lecompton is an "extinct issue," long since abandoned by the Administration, still clings to it as the true test of Democratic orthodoxy, and charges Senator DOUGLAS with committing "infinite blunders" during the last session, even to the support of that "most infamous of all Abolition measures, the Crittenden-Montgomery amendment." The Times, in reply, charges the Union with treachery to the party and politely invites it to "go to roost." The further progress of this fight will be watched with interest.

Departed this Life.

The English edition of the Chicago National Democrat—called, as we have heard, the "National Union"—expired yesterday in great pain. It was the Lecompton organ, and though filled with the advertisements of the federal government, it never had a circulation to any extent.—The Woodstock Democrat—a paper which changed from Democracy to Lecomptonism under a promise that its editor should be made postmaster—has also stopped. The Danites have now but one daily paper—"Peoria Daily $417"—and three very weeklies—Cairo Times, Jonesboro Gazette, and Princeton Democrat.—Chicago Times, Saturday.

The mortality among the BUCHANAN presses in Illinois is quite alarming, and the epidemic to which they have fallen victims is fast spreading through the North-West. The Administration is daily losing its "fair-weather" friends, who, scared by the signs of the Times, are deserting in troops to DOUGLAS. It is the knowledge of this fact that has prompted the Washington Union, the great gun of the Democratic press, to re-open its fire upon Senator DOUGLAS, so as to recall erring democrats to their posts and their duty.

FOURTH DISTRICT OF INDIANA.—The Indianapolis Journal thus announces an important change in the district represented by the distinguished FOLEY, who is set aside as a candidate, in the present canvass, in favor of Judge HOLMAN:

The German voters of the Fourth District, who are more numerous, perhaps, than in any Congressional District in the State, regard Judge Holman as an Administration man, and in order to show their opposition to slavery and corruption, will vote against him in October. The Germans have been deceived by the Bogus Democracy quite long enough. The cry of Know-Nothingism raised against the Republican party has kept many from joining our ranks, but that has lost its power and effect, and especially will its influence be weakened when it becomes known that Wm. S. Holman himself was a member of the "dark lantern party," as he called it, previous to his nomination in 1854.

It is to these "Know-Nothing and other Anti-Democratic affiliations," that the Rochester Union and the Milwaukee News ascribe the success of certain aspirants for office under Mr. BUCHANAN. The "National Democrats" of the Fourth District, Indiana, are therefore only "following copy," when they nominate an avowed K N for Congress and rely upon his Dark Lantern "affiliations" for success.

Some of the Ways in which they are Paid.

WASHINGTON, July 12, 1858.

As an evidence of the way things are done among the advocates of Lecompton, I give you a few items, which I gathered from a clerk in one of the departments.

Senator J. C Jones, of Tennessee, had a contract to supply 1,700 horses, at $150 each, which will make the neat sum of $270,900. It is stated that the horses were to be of a particular color and size, but when they arrived at Fort Leavenworth, they were found to be of all sizes and all colors, but were nevertheless accepted.

The brother of the Hon. J. Ahl, member of Congress for the Cumberland, York and Perry district, had a contract to supply for the army 500 mules, at 175 each, making $52,500; also, an order for 500 from Russell and Majors, Government contractors, at the same price, amounting in all to $87,000. The kind of mules delivered could be bought readily for 120 each. It is unnecessary to add that Mr. Ahl voted for Lecompton, and is a candidate for re-election.

Some of the other members of Congress from the rural districts have been providing for their friends at the public expense, in the way of contracts for barley, at fine prices.

Here are some few examples of the kind of arguments used by Mr. BUCHANAN and his Administration, to force the English swindle through Congress. Such unblushing corruption was never before known in the history of Congressional legislation. But it will all be of no avail. The unbought Freemen of Kansas will put their veto upon Mr. BUCHANAN'S "providential" measure, next month, and nothing will remain to the Administration, but the shame of the villainous attempt to make Kansas a Slave State.

Rev. S. G. Speed' Recent Anti-Slavery Lecture to be Answered.

E. A. HOPKINS' first Lecture, in Young's Lecture Room, over Young's Hall, on this evening, (20th inst.,) will be upon "Slavery in the Light of the Old Testamental Scriptures."

In this lecture, while the Rev. Mr. SPEED will be treated with Christian courtesy, he will probably be made to perceive that his text did not sustain his argument, nor authorize him to call domestic slavery a sin; that is to say, that he will be made so to see and feel it he come to hear the lecture. He may prefer not to come.—While he attempts to search and try his Southern brethren, he may be averse to being himself searched and tried. It is said he is no such man. It is said that while he searches he is willing to be searched, and that his congregation will, many of them, take pleasure in listening to Mr. HOPKINS' first lecture.

Southern Social Philosophy.

MR. EDITOR:—The undersigned has conceived a project for reconciling to each other Northern and Southern Christians, and for nationalizing the Republican party, that is, for making its existence and effective operation as a party, coextensive with the national bounds. To effect this end, he begins by opening a warfare upon Radical Abolitionism. Radical Abolitionists in large numbers are now operating in the Northern Churches, and voting with the Republican party. While they retain their fervent temper, the Northern and Southern Churches can have no harmony, the Republican party no liberality; on the contrary, through them Christ must be divided, and the Republican party must continue to represent only a segment of the national circle, its success a signal for the national dissolution.

Now there are men enough in the church who would rejoice to see them living in "the unity of the spirit"; men enough in the Republican party who would rejoice to see it national in its extension, and liberal as national. But neither of these things can be done till Radical Abolitionism shall have its present temper taken out of it, and its present temper goes out only with its life.—There seems to be no alternative for the attainment of these ends, but to meet Radical Abolitionism on its own grounds, fight it with its own favorite weapon of free discussion, clutch it by the gullet and never relax the grasp till it has stopped breathing. If it refuse a meeting in fair, free discussion, then brand it for a coward, and it will fall into such popular disfavor after all its windy stump speech-making, as to die for very shame.

This kind of warfare I open on radical Abolitionism, in a free Lecture, in Young's beautiful new Lecture Room, (over Young's Hall) this (Tuesday) evening, 20th inst., at 8 o'clock. I challenge Abolitionism to meet me there, to listen to my philosophy and answer it.

I say the right rule respecting domestic slavery in this country is Reform, not Abolitionism; and that Northern freedom needs reform, as much or more than Southern slavery. I say that slavery, as such, is no sin; that radical Abolitionism is abhorrent to nature, and religious Abolitionism, the Bible being Judge, is hateful to God, and what I assert I will undertake to prove.

The Discoverers of America.

FLORENCE, June 20, 1858.

It is rather remarkable that no Italian Power, ever had the slightest possession on the (American) continent, though its first four discoverers, including Verrazzano, a Florentine, were all Italians, a significant historic illustration of the course of the empire. The family of America, who was himself never married, is still represented in this city by the worthy descendants of an uncle. The present head of the family, a gallant young antiquary of noble presence, is in honorable employment under the Government. One of the sisters is, I believe, less honorably associated somewhere in the United States. The original family residence is here preserved, and an authentic bust of the navigator adorns the public museum. A fine portrait by a distinguished contemporary master was confided to Mr. C. Edwards Lester some years ago as a present to the Government of the United States, though it is said, the trust has never been fulfilled.

The sister above referred to, was the subject of a "fragrant" paragraph, last week, in that excellent "family newspaper," the Wisconsin.

THE CROPS.—But a short time since our farmers were congratulating themselves on the happy escape of their wheat from the effects of the wet weather during the spring; hoping for a plentiful harvest, and remuneration for the reverses of the past season. Now, again, their bright anticipations are blasted, and their worst fears appear about to be realized. The wheat throughout this section of the country is rusting badly—and thousand of acres are blasting.—Conversing a few days since with a farmer in relation to his crop of wheat, he said: "Two weeks since I congratulated myself in the hope of reaping as fine a crop of wheat as ever grew in Illinois; but now I cannot find a perfect berry in my field. The stalk bursts, and the sap prepared for the nourishment of the berry is wasted before it reaches its destination. I have no idea that I shall get enough from my land to pay for the seed and harvesting." Enquiries from others, are answered in the same manner, and with additional accounts of the ravages of rust.—Aurora (Ill.) Beacon.

MILITARY APPOINTMENT.—Gov. Randall has appointed our popular fellow townsman, P. W. Hoyt, Esq., Colonel of the 24th Regiment of Wisconsin Militia, composed of the county of Ozaukee. Pete will make a dashing Colonel.—Ozaukee Advertiser.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Hon. Carl Schurz of Wisconsin.

Yesterday we published an account of the Commencement exercises at Beloit College, from the pen of a special correspondent. An extemed friend has also favored us with a notice of the same interesting occasion, which is in part superceded by the former. We copy entire, however, his reference to the brilliant address of Hon. Carl Schurz before the Archæan Society of the College, not only because the author himself occupies a prominent place in the public mind, but because, also, the subject of his address is just now attracting unusual attention, and his views upon it differ very materially from those of certain gentlemen who claim to be the mouth pieces of modern Democracy:

The address of Hon. Carl Schurz came off on Tuesday evening, in the Congregational Church, and was well attended. The speaker is a native German, editor of a Republican paper at Watertown, Wisconsin, and was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Republican ticket in this State last fall. Mr. Schurz was thought to be a man of marked ability, and this reputation had come before him. But few of those who heard him were prepared for so brilliant and able an address as that which he gave us.

His theme was Americanism, or the American idea, which is the equality of man, the brotherhood of all men. The oration was a brilliant and striking vindication of natural rights, virtually founded upon the words of the Declaration of Independence as a text. "All men are created free and equal, and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Mr. Schurz not only showed that he was well read in universal history, but that he had considered the same and generalized upon its great facts until they had crystalized into broad forms of universal truth in his mind. One striking characteristic of the address was the breadth of view manifest at every turn of the discourse. The attentive listener saw that the speaker had been over the whole ground; even though he might not accept all his conclusions, yet he could not help admiring the breadth of his understanding—the wide range and accuracy of his knowledge. He spoke like a statesman and a man.—All that was inconsistent with the great doctrine of inherent, inalienable, equal rights among men, was justly condemned. All sycophancy and toadyism among politicians—all craft and cunning in place of simple uprightness, in individuals or nations, were properly denounced. The inconsistency of slavery, or of the war spirit—the conquering, colonizing spirit—or the desire to hold any other people in subjection to ourselves with our free institutions, was beautifully set before us, in just words and striking illustrations. Slavery unfits the master to be a true citizen of a Free Republic. The perpetuity of our Republic depends upon our being true to the great question of inherent, inalienable rights in all men—our treating man as man.

The style of Mr. Schurz is aphoristic. His sentences short and weighty. There were gems of thought expressed in words which would not have dishonored the lips of Bacon; sentiments that seemed as honey dropping from the rock of truth itself. Although we could not accept his conclusions, we did greatly admire his spirit, his genius, his learning and his great ideas.

We were informed that Mr. Schurz came to this country in consequence of taking a part in helping Kinkle to escape from prison. He is, at all events, a true friend of liberty. QUOD.

Distressing Accident.

One of the most painful occurrences which it has been our lot to chronicle, occurred last Saturday afternoon, in the death by drowning of Mr. C. B. I. Dudley a member of the Sophomore Class in the University, and a Teacher of Spanish in the Female Seminary.

The facts connected with this sudden bereavement are these: Mr. Justus V. Vinton, son of the late Dr. Vinton, Missionary to Burmah, and of the same class, started with the deceased on a bathing excursion to Madison Reservoir, and reached the pond late in the afternoon. After swimming about some time, they swam from the boat they had with them, to the island, where they left their clothes, a distance of fifteen or sixteen rods. Mr. Vinton then said he would swim back for the boat, to which the deceased remarked that he would accompany him, when they swam off together. When they had proceeded nearly two-thirds the way, the deceased complained of being tired, and Vinton told him to be calm—strike slowly and to rest his arms on his shoulders. He did so, and swam with the assistance of Mr. Vinton for some rods, and when within about a rod of the boat, suddenly he clasped his arms around Mr. V. exclaiming "Oh, Vint!" when they both went down. After sinking to a considerable depth, Mr. V. feeling the arms which pinioned his own, to lose their hold in a measure, made a violent effort to disengage himself, and succeeded by slipping the deceased's arms over his shoulders. After coming up and taking breath, he dove for him, but saw nothing of Mr. Dudley. After two or three more dives to the depth of twenty-five or thirty feet, the last time becoming so exhausted that blood spirted from his nostrils, he desisted, and called for assistance.

Word being brought to the village, a large number of the citizens repaired to the Reservoir and dragged for the body nearly all night, and continued their search all day Sunday without success.

On Monday, about 1 P. M., the body was brought to the surface by Mr. P. H. Burchard, who hooked into his shoulder with a spear, in a depth of 35 or 40 feet of water.

The singular manner of Mr. D.'s sinking and relaxing his grasp on Mr. Vinton, led to a post-mortem examination under the direction of Dr. Havens, in the presence of Drs. Lewis, Beardsley and Hunt. The examination resulted in the nearly unanimous conviction that his death was caused by pulmonary appoplexy or sudden congestion of the lungs, as it was clear he never struggled or moved after sinking below the surface.

Mr. Dudley is from Delaven, Wisconsin, and has been connected with the University three years; and he, during his residence here, endeared himself to all by his kind and gentlemanly deportment and studious habits. Possessing fine talents—an ambition lofty and aspiring—a perseverance, constant and unwavering. His friends had entertained high hopes of his usefulness, and predicted for him an honorable and brilliant future. How soon have these hopes been blasted! Little did we think that the hand we grasped Saturday, with a morning salutation, would, ere evening sun had declined behind the Western hills, lie cold in death; nor that his cheerful "good morning," would be the last words we should ever hear him utter; that even then the Death Angel's wings were clearing the ambient air, and his dart raised to strike him down. He has gone; gone prepared to go. Let us imitate his virtues, so that we may go

"Like him who wraps the drapery of his couch about him,
And lies down to pleasant dreams."

Henry Brayman vs. John Plummer, et al. Milwaukee circuit. Submitted on papers on file.

Argument in Chamberlain vs. M. & M. R. R. Co., resumed and completed

Winfield Smith Respondent, vs. Byron W. Clark, and Chas. S. Clark, impleaded &c. with appellants. Milwaukee Circuit. Argued by Downer & Emmons for appellants, and by Smith for respondent.—Madison Journal.

ILLUSTRATED POLITICS.—Gov. Stewart is the head and front of the national democratic party of this State. He is the expounder of its politics, not less than the representative of its decency. We make no apology therefore for calling attention to a sentence from a late speech of his, reported to the Democrat by a correspondent at Jefferson City. It is as follows:

"Every poor devil I take from the penitentiary and put him to work, takes away one competitor from your labor, my German friends."

Whatever we may say of the motive which the governor thus discloses as prompting him to exercise liberally the pardoning power, no one can fail to be struck with the logic to which he so unhesitatingly appeals. Compelled labor—prison labor—convict labor competes with the free labor of his friends, and therefore he is willing to abate it even at the expense of turning criminals loose upon society. But when it comes to slave labor, that, also, and still more widely and disastrously competes with free labor throughout Missouri—then, forsooth, the governor and the national democracy, raise their hands in holy horror, and talk of free labor as a humbug, and slavery extinction as a great political crime. The illustration certainly speaks volumes for the consistency of these demagogues and their leader. They rejoice to empty the penitentiary and let loose its inmates amongst us, but cry aloud against the extinction of slavery, and the removal of the negroes from our state.—St. Louis Democrat.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.—The Steamer Wolf broke her main shaft yesterday, on her upward trip. The passengers were taken off by the Pearl soon after, and brought on as far as Fremont, when she struck a snag and sunk. No lives lost.—Waupaca Excelsior, 14th.

From the New York Tribune.

The Six Governors of Kansas.

Gov. Denver is in Washington, or on his way thither, and it is whispered that he does not mean to return. We trust this is not so. The people of Kansas ought to be excused from the task of converting any more governors. Reeder—Shannon—Geary—Walker—Stanton—Denver—six Democratic Governors—have been set upon them within a term of about four years; each of them dispatched from Washington brim-full of prejudice and hatred against "the fanatics"—"the Emigrant Aid Societies's paupers"—"the shriekers"—"the rebels"—the "Abolition demagogues"—who, they were told at the White House, were defying the Government, committing all manner of outrages, and keeping Kansas in perpetual hot water. It took time to overcome the prejudices thus engendered; but time and observation did it; and nearly every one that was sent, like Balaam, to curse, remained to bless. We believe every ex-Governor of Kansas, including even Shannon, is this day a Free State man, and intensely hostile to the Lecompton Constitution. Gov. Denver keeps a close mouth; but his acts speak; and those acts evince a gradual softening toward the Free State men from the month of his arrival in Kansas down to his recent official visit to Fort Scott, where, though he spoke very cautiously, he did what was right. We hope he may remain Governor of Kansas until her people are permitted to have one of their own choice. There will hardly be time to humanize another.

MAIL ROUTES BETWEEN THE ATLANTIC AND THE PACIFIC.—The following is a list of the mail routes established, or to be established, between the Atlantic and the Pacific portions of our country:

1. From New Orleans, Louisiana, by Indianola, to San Antonia; thence by El Paso and Fort Yuma, to San Diego, on the Pacific; twice per month.

2. From Memphis and St. Louis, forming a junction at Fort Smith, near the head of navigation on the Arkansas river; thence in the direction of Preston, on the Red river; thence to Fort Fillmore, above El Paso, on the Rio Grande; thence to Fort Yuma, on the Colorado, and thence by the Tehon Pass to San Francisco.

3. From St. Joseph, on the Missouri, to Salt Lake, and from Salt Lake through Carson Valley to Placerville.

7. The new Tehuantepec route from New Orleans, Louisiana, to San Francisco, connecting with the Panama line at or near Acapulco.

8. Steamers between San Francisco, Astoria and Olympia, and on Puget's Sound.

A QUEER PLATFORM.—The Madison Argus, finding Col. Jone's big job of printing assessment blanks is not going to pay, thus comes down on the assessment law:

"It is a Republican measure. It was urged as a Republican measure, and though receiving the votes of some Democrats who had not time to examine its provisions, yet its passage was secured by the pains taken to drill the Republican members to its support.

We now raise both hands for its repeal. The abrogation of the odious assessment law is the issue upon which the Democratic party enters the canvass."

This will be a queer test of principle. We have not yet found a man of any party who is not in favor of having it repealed. We presume the Republican nominee for Congress will receive the support of the Argus on this test of qualification, as he will doubtless go in for repeal.—Prescott Transcript.

NEW VIEW OF VACATIONS.—The London News says:

It is held that bankers, clerks, cashiers and others in situations of trust, are not only entitled to occasional relaxation, but ought to be compelled to absent themselves for a time, now and then, from their places of business, because thus much fraud may be prevented. While a fraudulent person is on the spot, and vigilant, he can keep his irregularities safe, but if you send him away to Southend or Herne Bay, you break the threads of his plot, and he is pretty sure to be found out. So now a clerk who wants holiday, seems to have a new and proud claim to one. I should like to have a little sea air, will honceforth mean, examine my books, compare my balances; I am totus teres atque rotundus.—And a man never taking a holiday—always a bad sign—will now be almost enough to warrant a call for A 198.

Publishers Daily Sentinel Milwaukee Wis.

From the London Punch, June 27.
Mr. Rarey—Punch.

And Mr. Punch dreamed that he was Mr. Rarey.

And behold, Rulers of the Earth had been turned into quadrupeds, by an elevating and improving magic, a hint from

"The Man by Where Circe dwelt, the daughter of the Day."

And their people brought them to the great Rarey-Punch that he might tame them.

Come prancing in, a haughty black horse, with a red eye, and he tried to trample upon everything in his way. They called him Corsican. A newspaper was laid before him, and he stamped it to atoms, and only to those who approached him on their knees would he be placable. Mr. Punch talked to him for five minutes, and then the Corsican ran playfully about, holding the Cap of Liberty between his teeth. He kicked a hole in a drum, and snorted with delight as Mr. Punch whistled our National Anthem.

Keys embroidered on his cloth, then entered a sleek, but vicious-looking Italian horse, named Tiara. His vice, as was explained by one Mezzini, his keeper, was, that having gained your confidence by apparent good nature, he would strike out, lame you, and afterwards try to roll over you. He had actually maimed, in this manner, another horse called Liberty, who had then been killed by a French quack veterinian. In ten minutes Tiara was dancing on his hind legs, to the music of Luther's Hymn.

A handsome creature, of Spanish blood, was then introduced. She was named The Innocent. She had fondling and wheedling ways, and suddenly lashed out and bit venomously, and never was so dangerous as when apparently in the best humor. She had came of a bad stock, but her training had been the poor thing's worst enemy. Very brief time passed, and she was caracoling round the ring, delighted with the popular air called the Pronunciamento.

Why a Turkish horse, named Abdul, was brought to Mr. Punch, he could not tell, the animal being in an enfeebled condition, and incapable of doing much harm. The point seemed to be to give him activity, but the only thing that excited him was the attempt to take away any of his gay trappings. There was talk of entering him for the Enlightenment Stakes, but he evidently could not live the pace.

Then came Bombay, an obstinate brute, exceedingly malicious, whose forte was getting anybody into a corner, keeping him there, and occasionally kicking him in the face and stomach — The stern, yet mild Dompteur stood no nonsense from this animal, and in a quarter of an hour he amicably beat time to a hymn of Watts', and it was clear that he would see no enemy in a Pera.

A rather young horse from Vienna was next subjected to the process. He also was ill-bred rather than positively vicious, and he became frightened at the commonest objects, when nothing allayed him but the sight of soldiers' uniforms. He was gradually familiarized by the Tamer, with the sight of the obnoxious articles, and speedily allowed a newspaper to be flung at him.

Some Russians then came with a horse named Alexander. "I had a good deal of trouble with his Sire," said Mr. P., "but this seems altogether a horse of another color." And so it proved, Alexander rather shying at the sound of a gun, but being apparently pleased with that of a railroad. "A free goer," said Mr. Punch, "and I hope to see him at Ascot."

Lastly came a Yankee horse called President Sly Boots. The moment he entered he deliberately winked at Mr. Punch. The latter went gently up to him, and, being a master of the American language, addressed him as follows:—"I calkilate old hoss, as you ain't in want of no teaching from me. Lookin' round after Cruiser, are you? Never mind about cruisers. That's all square, yes, sir-ree. And you knows it all-fired well, old hoss. Yew git out!" added Mr. Punch, with one of Mrs. Barney Williams' most brilliant equalls.

President Sly Boots set up such an uncommon hearty horse laugh that Mr. Punch awoke.

A First Rate Notice for the Smiths.

SMITH, the razor strop man, is about again.—He is not ashamed of his patronymic—he rather glories in it. In the course of a recent harangue, in one of our neighboring cities, Smith administered the following consolation to the great family to which he has the honor to belong:

Gentlemen, my name is Smith, and I am proud to say I am not ashamed of it. It may be that no person in this crowd owns that very uncommon name. If, however, there be one such, let him hold up his head, pull up his dickey, turn out his toes, take courage, and thank his stars there are a few more left of the same sort.

Smith, gentlemen, is an illustrious name,
And Stands very high in the annals of fame;
Let White, Brown and Jones increase as they will,
Believe me that Smith will outnumber them still.

Gentlemen, I am proud of being an original Smith; not a Smithe nor a Smyth, but a regular, natural, original Smith. Putting a y in the middle or an e at the end won't do, gentlemen.—Who ever heard of a great man by the name of Smythe, or Smith-e? Echo answers who? and everybody says nobody. But as for Smith, plain Smith, why the pillars of fame are covered with that honored and reverend name.

Who were the most racy, witty and popular authors of this century? Horace and Albert Smith.

Who the most original, pithy and humorous preacher? Rev. Sidney Smith.

To go back further, who was the bravest and boldest soldier in Sumpter's army, in the Revolution? A Smith.

Who palavered with Powhattan, galivanted with Pocahontas, and became the ancestor of the first families in Virginia. A Smith again.

And who, I ask—and I ask the question seriously and soberly—who, I say, is that man, and what is his name, who has fought the most battles, made the most speeches, preached the most sermons, held the most positions, sung the best songs, written the most poems, married the most women, kissed the most girls, run away with the most wives, and married the most widows?—History says, you say, I say, and everybody says, John Smith.

SHIP BUILDING EXTRAORDINARY.—It is clear that ship building is merely in its cradle. The Yankees are determined not to be out-reached by the Leviathan. We are informed that at New York they are building a ship so tremendously long that there is no part of the ocean sufficiently broad to enable it to turn. This difficulty is to be obviated by the ship having two wheels—one on the American end, and the other on the English. The passengers will simply have to walk across. Long before you have had time to stroll from one wheel to another, you will be at your journey's end. There will be cab stands at various points for the convenience of those who cannot keep up with the speed of the vessel. An omnibus will also start at the commencement of each trip. It guarantees to reach the other extremity of the vessel precisely at the same time that the vessel touches at the desired harbor. For the accommodation of pedestrians, persons going from England to America are requested to keep on the right hand side of the vessel, whilst persons walking from the American continent to the European are directed to go on the left. There are to be shops on both sides all the way. The mere rent of these is expected to pay for the outlay of the building. The ship is not yet christened, but it is expected that, out of compliment to the Yankees, it will be called the Stretcher.—Punch.

☞ WONDERFUL REPORTS FROM WELL-KNOWN CITIZENS.—Piles and the Rheumatism.—Some remarkable cures are daily coming to light. Charles Negus, Esq., Ex-Mayor of the city of Camden, says, the "Electric Oil" cured his Piles by six applications; also, Rheumatism. He says it is a very valuable remedy, and everybody ought to know it.

Neuralgia.—Mr. David Mann, 499 Vine street, says De Gath & Co's "Electric Oil" cured him, and that he was a great sufferer.

Stiff Neck.—Mr. Mann's daughter was much afflicted with a stiff and swollen neck, which the Oil cured immediately.

Bad Sprain.—Mr. A. D. Highfield, No. 12 Howard st., met with a serious accident, which laid him up, says he tried everything, even the usual cold water shower, without any benefit—used a single bottle of the Oil, which cured him—also says it cured frosted feet.

Catarrh in the Breast.—Mr. Warlow's little girl was cured. This is a very interesting case. Come and see.

And so it is, I am daily called upon to chronicle cures like the above. Inhaled, all pain vanishes by the use of my Oil. CHARLES DE GRATH.

COMMERCIAL & FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, } Monday Evening, July 19, 1858. }

MONEY MATTERS.—The money market is without important change. Exchange continues steady, but not over and above plenty. In our money article of Saturday, the statement that "between twenty and thirty thousand dollars of exchange had been sent east within a week to purchase Missouri stocks" was much below the mark. Another cipher to our figures would have been nearer the correct amount. There is not much first class paper offering in the streets at present. The Banks take all the strictly good business paper offered at the usual rates. Gold is selling at 1 per cent, and Exchange on the East at the same rate. Note Brokers rates remain unchanged, with little doing. General business continued moderately active. We take the following from the Chicago Press & Tribune of Saturday, relative to money matters in that city:

The stringency in the exchange market continues. The rates today have been 1½, with sales only to customers, and as sparingly as possible at that. Discounts as high as 2 to 2½ per cent, and money is rather closer with more caution as to the paper taken. Gold retails at 1¼@1½. The demand is not large and the supply is limited. In the street and among the note brokers there is comparatively very little doing. Rates are nominal at 1¾@2 per cent per month.

There were less buyers than usual in the market to-day and consequently transactions were limited almost to the sales to millers, but there was no decline in prices, on the contrary rather a firmer feeling amongst holders. Receipts of wheat, which were small at the close of last week are becoming beautifully less as the harvest approaches. The market opened this morning tolerably active for extra milling samples of wheat, but there was very little inquiry for No. 1. Considerable of the No. 1 which was included in our report of sales Saturday, was rejected to-day on being delivered, and sent back. The platform men are quite out of humor with the buyers on this account, and some of them think that it is smart dodge to cull the best and send back the balance to buy over again at lower prices. Well, as Caleb Wall would say, "there's cheating in all trades but oars." The demand for oats continues brisk, and receipts keep up well. We quote to day:

WHEAT—Market quiet, prices unchanged. The following are a portion of the day's sales, but enough to show the condition of the market: 150 bags XXX milling club at 76c, 250 bags choice club at 75c, one car load do at 74c, 60 bags do at same price, 100 bags No. 1 at 71c, 100 bags medium do at 69c, 100 bags common at 65c, 1 car load do at same price, and 100 bags at 63c.

FLOUR—Quiet and unchanged. Sales of 130 bbls 'Bark River Mills' spring extra, which had been held for a long time, at $3.38½ delivered.

FREIGHTS—Quiet. The only charter we heard of to-day was the bark Sunshine 32,000 bus oats to Buffalo at 3c.

OATS—The demand continues brisk, and full prices maintained; sales to-day of about 20,000 bags at 31c on platform.

NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

Latest Improvement—Watson's Patent.

THE MANUFACTURER and Agent desire to call the attention of the public to the Cheap labor saving machine, and now, since the great improvements which have been added to it, recommend it with the utmost confidence, as it has been in operation in this city a sufficient length of time to test its utility. These machines are made strong and durable, and with one-fourth part of the care required to manage a higher priced machine. They will do as much work, and as well as the most expensive. Each machine is thoroughly tested before it is sold, and warranted to give satisfaction, if the instructions are followed with ever an ordinary amount of care, and will be kept in order one year free of charge.

Price of improved machine, complete, (including stand) $25. Persons wishing to purchase a machine are invited to bring their work with them and test the machine to their entire satisfaction, before purchasing.
